ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS A YEAR IN ADVANCE

BART S. REID RECEIVES SENTENCE OF 21 YEARS

The trial of Lieut. Bart S. Reid which began a week ago Wednesday came to a close Saturday morning when the jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter and fixed the penalty at 21 years in the penitentiary. The jury was chosen at once and the trial proceeded rapidly considering the number of witnesses examined.

For the benefit of our out of town readers we give a short resume of the killing.

A few days before the killing of Willie Lee by Lieut. Reid, the latter was accosted, while on the C. & M. train, by Jim Lee, brother of Willie Lee, who, it is alleged, pushed a gun against the body of Lieut. Reid asking him if he had seen the gun before, and threatening to kill him. However Jim Lee got off the train without carrying out his threat but he shot into the train the bullet striking Josh Faulkner in the neck. Under the skillful care of local surgeons, his life was saved.

These events evidently preyed on the mind of Lieut. Reid, who talked about the affair a good deal. While discussing the matter at the foot of the office of Attorney R. N. Jarvis, a man, unknown to Lieut. Reid, challenged his statement that Jim Lee had shot a blind man, stating that he had shot a man who was molesting a blind man and that the jury had turned him loose. He also stated that such talk made trouble. The man, who was Willie Lee, went up to the office of R. N. Jarvis and, on the persuasion of Sawyer A. Smith, left his gun as the latter believed he would be searched on descending the stairs.

Willie Lee then talked with S. H. Jones while Lieut. Reid watched from the front of Hotel Jones.

When Lee rode up the street by the side of the Black, Owens and Black office Lieut. Reid stepped in front of him and fired a shot gun, the charge lodging in Lee's upper face. He fell from the mule and died almost instantly.

County Attorney James S. Golden who delivered the argument, was at his best and brought out every point for the Commonwealth with hammerlike force. There has been general comment on the way in which he presented his facts which was with absolute clarity and skill and though his father, Judge B. B. Golden is a warhorse in defense and put forth every effort on behalf of his client, the work of the County Attorney was of such a nature that the jury evidently gave no heed to the moving cause of the tragedy, but confined its judgment to the issue as between Willie Lee and Lieut. Reid.

When the foreman of the jury pronounced the verdict and while each juror was being individually polled as to his separate verdict, Lieut. Reid remained quite calm to all outward appearances.

The two companies of the National Guard from London and Williamsburg who were under command of Maj. James K. Dillon and Capt. Roy

W. Easley, had machine guns posted on the portico of the Court House as well as the Square. Continuous patrol service was established and absolute quiet was observed by all. Every person who entered the Court room was searched.

Lieut. Reid was brought into Court Wednesday to receive his sentence.

Another trial will result if the plea for an appeal which will be made before Court dissolves, is received favorably.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

Last Sunday 192 in S. S. and one fine young lady joined the church at the morning hour. In the evening a good B. Y. P. U. program and five highly esteemed citizens joined the church. Excellent special music both morning and evening.

Special plans are being made for attractive and spiritual services at each hour every Sunday.

"Come thou with us and we will do these good." Let every member of the church be praying for the blessings of God upon the efforts of the church and for the salvation of the lost.

TREADWAY WINS CONTEST

At the August Primary W. H. Grace was nominated as magistrate for the Magisterial District No. 6. T. T. Treadway ran against him on the independent ticket and beat him by 32 votes. Mr. Grace contested the election, but after witnesses had been examined before Judge Rose Saturday Judge B. B. Golden withdrew suit and Mr. Treadway was declared elected.

WYRICK

The soul of Mrs. Amanda Burton Wyrick, wife of Mr. E. J. Wyrick, parted the veil and entered into eternal rest Tuesday, December 13, at the family home.

Deceased was born Oct. 14, 1862, and was 59 years, 1 month and 30 days old when called away.

The funeral service was held today at the First Baptist Church, Corbin, Ky., interment being in Pinehill Cemetery.

Besides the bereaved husband three daughters and two sons survive to mourn the loss of their mother.

The sympathy of the entire community is with the sorrowing family.

ONE OF THE BEST

One of the very best Lyceum numbers that has ever occupied the rostrum at Union College was that of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wells. Both have fine voices and sing sympathetically. Both are equally at home as pianists.

As part of the entertainment a play exemplifying the lengths to which a mother will go in behalf of her son was splendidly portrayed by Mr. and Mrs. Wells, who were fine in the several parts they undertook. Citizens who are missing these Lyceum numbers are losing a treat.

POWER DRY CLEANING PLANT BEING ERECTED IN BVILLE

The Barbourville Steam Laundry has been granted a permit by the City Power to erect a building for a power dry cleaning plant. Work on a concrete and wooden building has already been begun and will be pushed to completion rapidly. It is expected the plant will be ready for business within thirty days.

This is another instance of the enterprise of the Barbourville Steam Laundry, which will spare no expense to give satisfaction and service to its customers.

BIG STILL CAPTURED

Deputy Sheriff Floyd Rice, of Artemus, on Friday brought in a 130 gallon copper still and thumping keg which he found on Brush Creek below Warren. Two men, Boyd Bays and John W. Alford (known as Little Dub) were taken with the still while grinding corn with a sausage mill. Both men were armed and threw their shotgun and Winchester on Rice, W. L. Warren, Charlie and Bob Philpot and Floyd Duff. The party ordered the two men to drop their guns at the risk of being killed if they refused. They did so. Both are out on bond here but they have had to make bond with the Federal court at Pineville also.

Several arrests have since been effected by them. They did so, due to feeling engendered. The bootlegging faction is bitter against those who they judge turned in evidence against them. Ben Golden received a glancing blow in the side from a bullet in a duel between Jerry Noe and Golden. Noe having gone to Golden's house. Noe was arrested.

MICKIE SAYS—

A CROSS

On Sunday evening as the sun was sinking behind the mountain and the shadows of night were closing down, the editor saw, against the fading light a cross. It did not stand out in bold relief, but was rather a thing of gray, subdued tones. Nevertheless, it was distinctly a cross, "lifted up" on a church spire.

The sight was an impressive one, with its call to the best and highest ideals which man holds. A cross! The call to remember Him who was lifted up that all men might know and follow Him. A cross! Symbol of self sacrifice, whereby men might learn to live and die for others. A cross! That sign which we engrave on our foreheads and hearts whereby we undertake to remain His faithful soldiers and servants to our lives end. A cross! That has, in spite of many failures, raised humanity to a higher sphere of living and made mercy to take the place of ruthless justice.

A cross! Emblem of the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man—silent advocate of love. A cross! Which every son of God may carry if he will, even to that far country from which no traveller returns.

In the bright light of the morning, in the quiet of eventide, in the blackness of the night and in the stress of the storm, that silent symbol of the Prince of Peace is there.

It abides in all our hates and fears, our cursing and sinning. God is unchangeable and the quiet symbol of man's redemption is still lifted up—a sermon without words.

CIVIC LEAGUE MEETING

What proved to be the largest attendance at a Civic League for some time assembled last Thursday, Dec. 8th with the president, Mrs. J. R. Tuggle in the chair.

Many topics came up for general discussion. The League together with the Woman's Study Club, will bring a lecturer here within the next few weeks. It was also decided to secure some of the films put out by the University Extension Department and present them some afternoon and evening in the near future.

Some very excellent records were played on the Victrola and Miss Emoline Sampson, accompanied by Miss Mae Carter sang two pleasing solos. Miss Carter rendered a piano solo. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Robert W. Cole.

LIFE SAVING CREW

The list of the Life Saving Crew who took the Red Cross examination which was handed in to us last week failed to give the name of Miss Violet Humfleet, who also took and passed the examination.

Don't miss the game Saturday, Dec. 17th. Show the Union boys that you are for them by your presence at the game: LaFollette vs. Union.

BILL CLARK HUGHES

LOSES HIS LID

On Sunday afternoon Bill Clark Hughes stood on the Cumberland River bridge, wrapped in profound adoration of the beauties of nature. Nothing stirred but the wind and his hat, the latter rising gracefully, took a header and began to sail toward the sea. Bill started for the same place but found that the hat had waited for him down the river and was comfortably lodged in the rocks. Bill threw some two score rocks at the hat, which showed perfect self confidence in its ability to dodge. Pride goeth before a fall, as Solomon wrote ages ago, and Bill finally started the hat on its journey. Travelling down stream a bit, it again lodged and Bill secured a stick with which he succeeded in lifting the hat out of the water, but having a date, it deliberately flung the brim in his direction and again left for the sea. Bill jumped to a small rock in an effort to catch the runaway, but it made a getaway as Bill teetered on his rock. We all watched Bill as he rose Mercury like for the shore. He wore his father's hat to church Sunday night. Some fellows would have made the loss of the hat an excuse for staying at home, but not Bill. Who knows what aborigine on some palm clad island may yet wear Bill's hat.

MAKES ATONEMENT

The New York Store is in receipt of the following unsigned letter: "Mr. Sam Cawn:

I enclose $1.00 which I counted you out of some time ago in making a purchase in your store. My conscience hurts me so this is my atone ment. A Repentant Customer."

The New York Store asks us to say they appreciate the honesty of the person who sent this money.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY OF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

All the women who are members of the Episcopal Church met at the home of Mrs. Fred Burman on Friday afternoon to organize a Woman's Auxiliary, the great missionary organization of their Church.

Any one in town who is identified with the Episcopal Church or who is interested in it is cordially invited to attend these meetings.

CHRISTMAS SERVICE SUNDAY

At seven o'clock Sunday evening a special service at the Methodist Church. The program consists of singing Christmas Carols, mixed quartette, ladies quartette, duets and three solos. The morning service at 11. Rev. O. G. Ragan will be present. He will render a solo. Sunday School at 9:45 and Epworth League at 6 P.M. Christmas exercises for the children Saturday, Dec. 24th at 7 P.M.

You'll find it in the Advocate.

CHILD BURNED TO DEATH

Little Hilda Irene, daughter of Joseph Poff, of Turkey Creek, was burned to death Monday when her clothing caught fire from an open grate, living only two hours after the accident. The little girl was only four years old and her loss is keenly felt not only by her parents but by the neighbors who had learned to love her.

OWENS

The death of Mrs. Henry Owens of near Emanuel occurred at the family home Thursday of last week. A husband and several grown children survive.

RECITAL

By Students from the Classes of Mabelle Heger, Voice, Mae Carter, Piano, Mildred Murphy, Expression, will be given Monday night, Dec. 19th, at 7:30 o'clock. This recital will be given free and will be a most enjoyable affair. All citizens are cordially invited to attend.

LOGAN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Wm. Cole is a patient and is improving.

Levi Lee is improving steadily. Basil Riley has so far improved that he has been removed to the home of Walter Riley.

Miss Amanda Marsee had her tonsils removed Monday.

Mrs. Martha Davis, of Warren, has left the hospital and is at the home of Frank Davis.

Robert Mason, of Union College, lost his tonsils Sunday morning.

COUNCIL MAKES APPOINTMENTS

At a regular meeting of the City Council Friday night the following officers were elected:

J. J. Tye, City Judge.
W. M. Dishman, City Attorney.
Russ Baker, Chief of Police.
E. E. Wyatt, Assistant.
W. E. McNeil, Collector and Treas.
H. L. Taylor, Clerk.

G. L. Dickinson and C. S. Townsley have purchased the old Rasnick farm which is located about two miles from town on the waters of Fighting Creek. This farm contains about 300 acres and lies on both sides of the Dixie Highway. Mr. Dickinson will begin immediate construction of a log bungalow on this tract retaining for himself about 10 acres. Mr. Townsley will also retain about 10 acres and the balance of the tract will be subdivided into small farms and be sold either at private sale or auction. They are thinking of dividing this excellent property into small farms immediately and selling sometime before Christmas at public auction, and at that time giving an old fashioned barbecue.

Darrel Archibald taught out at the High School last week.

WEAK, NERVOUS, ALL RUN-DOWN

Missouri Lady Suffered Until She Tried Cardui.—Says "Result Was Surprising."—Got Along Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 6, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me. I saw after taking some Cardui that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person."

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me. My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments. For sale everywhere.

Miss Sallie Frederick, who is a school teacher, spent the week end with home folks.

WHY THAT LAME BACK?

That morning lameness—those sharp pains when bending or lifting, make work a burden and rest impossible. Don't be handicapped by a bad back—look to your kidneys. You will make no mistake by following this Barbourville resident's example.

Mrs. W. M. Lambdin, N. Main St. says: "I had an attack of kidney trouble and my back pained. I had spells of dizziness that would almost blind me. Several times when I stooped over to get anything I fell right down and everything turned black before me. My kidneys were weak and irregular at times. Mornings I felt so tired and languid it was hard for me to do my house work. A neighbor advised me to take Doan's Kidney Pills and I took two boxes which cured me right away."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Lambdin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. Adv.

W. E. McNeil, of the First National Bank, has an assistant cashier working without salary. It is a machine which at a touch of the finger, will drop the correct change into a receptacle below. A touch of the receptacle and the money is in the hand.

Mrs. S. P. Franklin was hostess to a delightful dinner party at her home on College St. on Saturday night. Those present were Miss Abigail Weeks, Miss Mabelle Heger, Miss Mildred Murphy, Miss Blanche Whittington. During the evening the guests played Some-R-Set.

Earl Mayhew was in Lexington last week attending a meeting of County Agents. On Tuesday he attended a meeting of the agents of Southeastern Kentucky who are trying to arrange for some farmers' short courses this summer. It is hoped to hold three or four in each of the counties.

EXPERIENCED.

"How far do you travel in crossing the ocean from Liverpool to New York?" asked the teacher. "Four thousand miles," replied the bright youth. "Oh, no. Think again," said the teacher. "I'm right," persisted the youth. "It says three thousand miles in the book, and that's what it is in a straight line. But I'm counting the ups and downs. I've been across."

Not So Wild.

"Mercy!" exclaimed the nervous traveler. "What terrible looking savages! Could we do something to overawe them and make them think we are supernatural beings?" "That will hardly be necessary. The leader of the band seems about to take our picture with his kodak."

Misunderstood.

Cholly Lishpwell (at the telephone) —I want free tickets for tonight. Box Office Clerk (gruffly)—Free list is suspended. Cholly Lishpwell—I don't want them free. I want to pay for free—free—free. Can't you see I'm holding up free fingers!"

STALE TALE

Are you fond of fiction, darling? Yes, dearest, but don't tell me I am the only girl you ever kissed.

Cheers.

Let's give a cheer For Old Man Green; He keeps his own Front doorway clean.

Just So.

During a discussion with his wife touching things domestic, Groucheigh delivered himself of the following: "Marie, I have observed that she who makes a good pudding in silence is of greater worth than she who makes a tart reply."—Wayside Tales.

A Gentle Protest.

"I say, Nell, I was reading that there are sixty different ways of cooking potatoes." "I've heard so, but boiled—" "Well, don't you think it would be exciting to try one of the other fifty-nine ways once, just as an experiment?"

A Racial Uplift.

Jack—My brother takes up French, Spanish, Italian, Hebrew, German and Scotch.

Jill—Goodness! When does he study?

Jack—Study! He doesn't study. He runs an elevator.

Sufficient Proof.

"What reason have you," the judge asked, "for thinking your husband is no longer of sound mind?" "He was in an automobile smashup the other day," she replied, "and admitted that he was to blame."

She'll Probably Get Well Quick.

She (sick)—Now, promise me, James, not to marry again if I should die.

He—Yes, I'll readily promise you that, dear.

She (suddenly reviving)—You miserable wretch, haven't you been happy with me?

Buying a Pig in a Poke.

"What's this contraption?" "A labor saving device," says the young wife. "I bought it this morning."

"What kind of labor?" "Dear me. The agent talked so fast I forgot to ask."

Misunderstood.

Bridget (being hired)—How many afternoons out during the wake, mum? Mrs. Highmore—Well, of course, you can have every Thursday and— Bridget—I'm askin' ye, mum, how many afternoons out ye want yerself.

A QUESTION OF FITNESS.

Jones wired me that he and his wife would spend the week-end with us. Oh, dear! I haven't any clothes that are fit for anybody. Gracious, Marie! Don't you suppose they will bring their own clothes with them?

Superior to Circumstance. The cost of living, through all time, Has been deplored in prose and rhyme; Yet men, despite resentful rage, Live on, and oft attain old age.

Badges of Courage.

Wife—If I were you I wouldn't boast of my courage by continually showing off with that medal of valor on your chest!

Hubby—Then perhaps I had better remove my wedding ring also!

One Satisfaction.

Jack—I tell you courting a girl is a mighty expensive business. Tom—Yes, but, thank heaven, one doesn't require a lawyer in suing for a girl's hand.

JUST FUN

OF COURSE IT DOES.

Mr. Harrison was in a bad temper, and when an acquaintance met him one morning with a question, "Ow is your 'ealth today, Mr. 'Arrison?" he waxed wrathful.

"My name is not 'Arrison," he snapped.

"Well," said the other, "if a halitch, a hay, two hars, a hi, a hes, a ho, an' a hen don't spell 'Arrison, then what on hearth do they spell?"—Titt-Bits.

Alarming Symptoms.

"Where has Senator Snortsworthy gone?"

"Back home to feel the public pulse."

"Is there anything wrong with the public pulse?"

"Decidedly. It beats faster every time a successor to Senator Snortsworthy is mentioned."

Suitable, Indeed.

Curate (to widow of deceased house painter and decorator)—Have you thought of a suitable quotation for the 'In Memoriam' notice?

Widow—Well, I was thinkin' 'Oh, for the touch of a vanished hand'—Lon-don-Titt-Bits.

Asleep at the Switch.

She—Do you know what I'd do if you should try to kiss me?

He—No. Why?

She—Oh, nothing; only you don't seem to have any curiosity.

Attempting a Getaway.

"Who's the fussy old guy?"

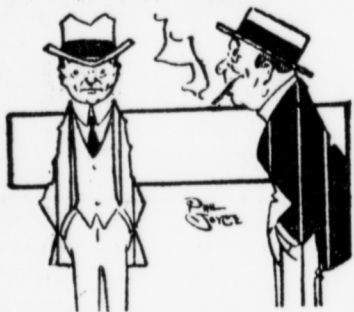

"That's my father."

"Is that so? I certainly do like to see a man as particular about little things as he."

A Mean Slam.

"My face is my fortune," simpered the girl.

"Well, it might make money for you in the comic films at that."

MIGHT BE WORSE OFF.

"Thankful! What have I to be thankful for? I can't pay my bills."

"Then, man alive, be thankful you aren't one of your creditors."

The Real Beneficiary.

Full many a man maintains a car. And wonders where its pleasures are. It costs a lot to make it run. The chauffeur seems to have the fun.

Just for Once.

"My goodness, Henry," ejaculated the wife of a man who always had decided opinions and was not adverse to expressing them.

"I don't know what would happen if you'd agree with me about anything."

"Well," said Henry, "I guess I'd have to admit being wrong for once."—American Legion Weekly.

No Wonder.

Strict Parent—From my observation of him last night I should say that that young man of yours was rather wild.

Daughter—Of course. It was your watching him that made him wild. He wanted you to go upstairs and leave us alone.

Poor Man.

Lady Visitor (to houseguest)—What brought you here, my good man?

Convict—Misplaced faith, lady.

Lady Visitor—Dear me! In a bad woman, I presume?

Convict—No, ma'am; in a hastily borrowed automobile with a bad engine.

Just One.

"I reckon, daughter, that young man's watch must be fast."

"What makes you think so, pa?"

"Why, when you were seeing him out the door last night I heard him say: 'Just one,' and it wasn't much past 12 o'clock."—Gary Works Circle.

Hard Work.

The Vicar—I suppose you've a large family to support, Mrs. Dempsey?

Mrs. Dempsey—I have, sir; and if they didn't all earn their own living I couldn't manage it.—Pearson's Weekly.

The Card Test.

Flubb—Why is Jenkins so anxious to make a poker party?

Dubb—He's had a falling out with his girl and wants to test the old adage "Unlucky in love, lucky at cards."

Some Gals.

"Another artist's model is writing her memoirs."

"Poor stuff, I dare say."

"Yes, but the illustrations are good."

CORSETS

A moments thought will convince the most pessimistic that Fashion is coming to the front as a strongly ally of the corset, just as we have repeated in our former messages to you. The charm of the modern corset lies in the simplicity of design and its skilful adaptation to the natural lines of the figure. Its self effacing artistry enhances a woman's points of beauty, hides her disharmonies, and creates the impression of a gracefully poised figure faultlessly proportioned by nature.

OBITUARY

The death angel has again visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Jenkins and torn from their midst the loving wife and mother, Mrs. Sallie Jenkins. She was born January the 8th, 1876. On July 29th, 1921, this loving wife and mother, apparently without a care or a moments anxiety fell asleep in the arms of Jesus to await the great summons from on high.

Mrs. Jenkins professed faith in Christ and joined the Missionary Baptist Church at Lay, Ky., and was baptized at the age of eighteen years. She lived a devoted and consecrated Christian life until the One whom she had been serving since her childhood days found her needful in His kingdom and called her from earth to glory. Bereaved ones, think for a moment that your loss is her eternal gain. There is no doubt whatever but what this dear companion, affectionate mother, kind and loving sister is a shining angel in the realms of bliss. She now enjoys perfect health, pleasure unmixed with pain, and sweet rest without weariness. Sorrow and sighing are at an end in the realms of bliss. There she will suffer no more—all pain is removed and her every want is abundantly satisfied by a kind and loving Saviour—one who considered her too precious for this sinful world.

She is reunited with father and mother and many, many loved ones that have long gone on before. She is thru with this old lonesome world of toil and sorrow. She will never know suffering, grief or pain up there.

A painful cancer was destined to bring Mrs. Jenkins useful life to an end. She suffered many months but took her suffering to God in humble prayer and bore it with great patience for well she knew there are mighty conflicts in this great Christian warfare.

But all this has ended with Mrs. Jenkins for now she has reached the land of promise. Here we sow in tears but here we reap in joy. The light afflictions of this life, which are for but a few days, will issue in eternal weight of glory if we will only look forward by the eye of faith as did this dear one we shall see an end of all our sorrow. Here we encounter many storms; when one has blown out another comes. Thus these changes will continue while we sail on life's troubled sea.

But during all those weary years Mrs. Jenkins had been looking forward toward a secure heaven of rest where she would be out of the reach of howling tempest and where the storms of her voyage would end. Now she has reached this heaven of repose and landed on the fair coast Canaan. Now she is done with all those things which excite our fears, distress our spirit and pain our feelings. "Many are the afflictions of the righteous" in the present world "but the Lord delivereth him out of them all" in the world to come.

Here we part with friends and loved ones. But indeed, it is hard. As the husband remembers his dear companion, the children their kind mother, their hearts are at times made to break. But think, dear children, that all you loved of dear mother is not dead. She is far happier than you could have made her here on earth.

Since Mrs. Jenkins' death her husband has professed faith in Christ and also her son Ramon, and now by the eye of faith they can behold wife and mother robed and crowned for the society of heaven. Mother, the dearest of all, is hard to part with but again you can meet her—take her Saviour as yours and follow in her footsteps. Mrs. Jenkins realized that the hand of death soon would claim her. She talked to her husband, children, friends and relatives in regard to her hope of heaven and prayed for those that were in sin.

The bereaved ones wish to extend their heart felt thanks to their many friends and relatives for the kindness shown them thru the death and suffering of the loving wife and kind and loving mother. Mrs. Jenkins was widely known and much beloved by all who knew her. She leaves an aged husband in this lonely world, two boys, Clyde and Ramon, and one daughter, Ivory Pearl. Speak to them kindly to make them a welcome home. Besides these she leaves two step children, Maud and Edward, whom she regarded as her own dear children and they her as their mother. But now her place is vacant in the home and never can be filled. The voice of the loved one is still. How much they miss her no one can tell. But think of her joys and your grief will be less, knowing that very soon you will all be united around the great, white throne. (By Request.)
